

Sleep Study Service - Direct to the Patient

The COVID-19 pandemic is having a massive influence on the ability of many sleep departments to maintain services in the face of unprecedented demand. As staff are rightly tasked to deal with direct consequences of the virus, assisting in direct patient care and support as required, there is inevitably a significant backlog of 'usual services' building in the background.

Sleep diagnostics have understandably been relegated to a lower priority and will remain so until the situation settles.

When the situation allows a return to the normal delivery of sleep services, it is inevitable that a backlog in diagnostics will already exist or will quickly appear, depending on recent referral patterns.

Given the size of the waiting list, it may prove difficult to reduce waiting times using your normal pathways. We can assist you by providing recording devices direct to the patient's home and arrange collection of the device afterwards.

We can deliver the raw data back to you for analysis within your department, or we can analyse the study, and return both the raw data and the report.

Please call us to discuss how we can best help you return to normal sleep service delivery. Flexible solutions guaranteed.
